Churchill Evaluates Effect Of Flying Bombs LONDON BEARS BRUNT OF NAZI WEAPON

Committee Of Scientists To Improve Counter- Measures: Facilities For Evacuation Of Women And Children From Metropolis

LONDON, July 6.—Mr. Churchill, in a statement to the Commons about flying bomb attacks on Britain, stated today that it would be a mistake to underestimate the serious character of this particular form of attack and it never had been underrated by the Government. On the contrary, the views the Government had formed of the force and the extent of the danger had considerably exceeded what had actually happened up to the present.

Mr. Churchill said that if it had not been for the bombing operations in France and Germany the bombardment of London would not doubt have started perhaps six months earlier and on a very much heavier scale.

Up to 6 o'clock this morning 2,754 flying bombs had been launched, causing 2,752 fatal casualties.

'LONDON WOULD NEVER BE CONQUERED'

Mr. Churchill emphasised that Britain must fit in her own domestic arrangements into the general scheme of war operations. She would not allow battle operations in Normandy or attacks against special targets in Germany to suffer. London would never be conquered.

How Nazi Secret Weapon Was Traced

Mr. Churchill in his statement declared: "Let me say at the outset that it would be a mistake to underestimate the serious character of this particular form of attack. Certainly it has never been underrated in the secret circles of Government. On the contrary up to the present time the views which we formed of the force and extent of the danger were considerably in excess of what has actually happened."

During the early months of 1943 we received through our many and varied intelligence sources vague reports that the Germans were developing a new long-range weapon with which they proposed to bombard London.

At first our information led us to believe that a rocket weapon would be used. The enemy took all possible precautions to conceal his designs from us. Notwithstanding, as the result of searching investigations by agents and air reconnaissance we had, by July, 1943, succeeded in locating at Peenemunde on the Baltic, the main experimental station, both of the flying bomb and long-range rocket.

Very great damage was done by

Soviet Drive Towards Vilna

Fighting Flares Up Between Kovel And Upper Dniester Says German Communiqué

BERLIN, July 6: To-day's German communiqué said: On the eastern front fighting flared up between Kovel and the upper reaches of the Dniester. Grim battles continue at land bridges at Baranovich and Molodechno.

MOSCOW, July 6: The radio reported German counter-attacks against advanced Red Army positions on two sectors of the White Russian front to-day.

The Red Army, however, is sweeping the Germans away in its race west, said 'Izvestia'.

According to the 'Red Star' the Soviet forces have advanced another ten miles on the Karelian front. From Reuter's Special Correspondent: The Red Army's bulge towards Vilna has become a spearhead in the past 24 hours. Gen. Cherniakhovsky's tanks and fast-moving mobile infantry units are to-day heading straight for the city with less than 45 miles to go.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE MOLODECHNO
Wednesday night's Soviet communiqué says: "During July 5 troops of the Karelian front fought offensive battles and captured Saalmi and several other large inhabited localities. Troops of the Third White Russian Front as the result of an impetuous attack captured the town and important railway junction of Molodechno as well as the 150 Soviet localities, including the district centre of the Ilyekia region Smorgonie which is also an important railway junction."

In the middle reaches of the Pripyet river our troops captured the town of Turów.

In this situation the operational aim of Red commanders will go beyond the line of frontier fortresses of Dniester and Dniepr and will be directed towards the capture of the city of Kyiv.

Advanced Russian forces are now only 200 miles from Litz, the likely objective of this offensive.

This advance would trap German forces still in Baltic lands.

HITLER OFFERED TO RETIRE?

More Light On Rejected Peace Proposals To Allies

LISBON, July 6:—

Revealing the rejected proposals received by the Allies from the German side, the world went so far as to contemplate "retirement" of the Reich Leader.

They also included immediate cessation of flying bomb raids, progressive retirement of the 1939 frontiers, re-establishment of pre-war Poland and mutual guarantee against eastern aggression including the integrity of Hungary and Rumania.

The German Overseas News Agency today reported that Hitler had a conference with his armaments chiefs at his headquarters.

Hitler said: "This war must not be judged by day-to-day developments. I realise that immensely strong nerves and courage are necessary to overcome times like this."

"This war is not only the soldier's war, it is above all the technician's war."

Technical inventions have been the feature of the war, he said.

During the war our enemies have succeeded in catching up with the German in many fields, he said, even to overtake Germany for the time being at least.

German inventive genius, however, is about to put the technical equilibrium. In this way conditions are being created which will allow us to turn the wheel of war full circle."

No Dumping Of British Goods To Wipe Out Sterling Balances

Sir Chunilal B. Mehta Endorses Bilateral Agreement But Suggests Safeguards For Indian Interests

BOMBAY, July 6: Referring to the rejection of the proposal to include the question of repayment of India's accumulated sterling balances in the United Kingdom at the International Monetary Conference, Sir Chunilal B. Mehta said in an interview: "The proposal is one which has surprised me to see the fate of the Indian delegation's proposal. As a matter of fact, from the time the agenda was available, I was of the opinion that the question of war balances did not come within the scope of the International Monetary Conference."

"The accumulation of Sterling balances has been the direct result of India's contribution to the war effort, and any international monetary arrangement by which India has not an assurance of the repayment of the accumulated Sterling balances, within a reasonable period of time, will affect economically and financially not only India but perhaps the whole world," he said.

"There is no other country in the world except India who has such an outstanding monetary problem with another country, a solution of which has not yet been satisfactorily arrived at. There would have been no objection whatsoever to a bilateral agreement on the subject between India and the United Kingdom for the lack of confidence on the part of Indians towards the British, owing to India's subordinate political position. The general Indian apprehension is that repayment will be made by dumping British goods in India at a very high price, thereby preventing India from extending her industries and her international status."

NEED OF BILATERAL PACT
The only solution for India now is, firstly, to have a bilateral agreement with the United Kingdom in regard to the repayment of the accumulated sterling balances as early as possible on a reasonable basis, with an assurance by Britain that no goods would be dumped or be sold at a price which would be a burden on the Indian consumer's interests. Secondly, according to the present position only a part of the dollar accumulation of India's balance of trade with the U.S.A. is to be set aside. This should Indian troops after recent heavy fighting at Mont Aceto have now reached the outskirts of Umbertide in the Upper Tiber Valley.

In the Asiatic sector Polish troops have made a further advance in the vicinity of Osmo.

JAPS USE MAGNETIC BOMBS

KANDY, July 5: Driving to Imphal, Admiral Mountbatten saw some captured Japanese tanks and the Japanese magnetic bomb which sticks to the side of armoured vehicles and explodes.

In a talk to troops of the 17th division, he quoted from two recently captured Japanese orders of the day which stated that to contest the capture of Imphal, Japanese must realise that the whole of their divisions would be practically annihilated.

There have been no new advances by the Japanese since the capture of Imphal. The Japanese are still in the process of using up their ammunition.

Gandhiji Visits Girls' School

Gujarati Songs Of Welcome In Parsee Institution Please Mahatma

(From Our Special Representative).
PANCHGANI, July 6: Leaders with political leanings visiting "Dharm" Gandhiji's residence, being few since his arrival here, Gandhiji is believed to be taking more rest now than before. Rajaji, who is now staying with Gandhiji is likely to leave for Bombay on Saturday with Mr. Birla, who is expected here tomorrow.

Villagers from adjoining villages, however, continue to come to see Gandhiji and it appears to enable them to see him, Gandhiji's public prayers will be held daily despite the vagaries of the weather.

The venue of public prayer was changed to-day. This evening Gandhiji motored to the Zoroastrian Young Women's Educational Home situated in a slightly low-lying place with a beautiful garden. Gandhiji was received at Mira Hall by the Principal Bha with whom Gandhiji cracked jokes, Gandhiji smilingly said that wherever he went he had the good luck of coming across Parsis.

He had always been welcomed by Parsis. The Principal asked, "Were not Parsis Indians?" He added they always loved and respected him (Gandhiji).

As soon as Gandhiji was seated, a welcome song to the tune of 'Swami' was sung by girls in hushed silence. After the usual prayer and Gandhiji's hearty laughter and said: "This is just what I want." Scrolling of paper with songs written by girls were presented and Gandhiji remarked that they had been written by the pupils he would have appreciated more.

After prayer Gandhiji talked to a lady teacher of the school and enquired whether she remembered that the song appeared similar to one sung by Kabirji. Sisters after his return from Africa. The teacher could not convey the message to the girls. The father of the girls is a retired Collector. He was formerly staying at Panchgani. He is now staying at Mirzanagar. He decided to hold prayer every day in the school.

Extraordinary Meeting Of

LUCKNOW, July 6: It is reliably understood that an extraordinary meeting of the Provincial Muslim League Council has been convened by the Acting President Mr. Rizwanullah, on July 23 at Muzaaffarnagar.

Mr. Rizwanullah stated that if Nawab Mahomed Ismail, President of the Provincial League, asked him to cease functioning as the Acting President, he would comply with the request; but to obviate legal difficulties, he would put the whole thing before the meeting of the Council of the Provincial League. He deplored that Nawab Ismail did not intimate to him his intention of not availing of the four months leave, in view of the latest development in the League politics of the Province.—United Press.

JOINT RESIGNATION OF 100 GOVT. CLERKS

BOMBAY, Thursday. More than a hundred out of about 150 employees of the Department of Supplies (Accounts), Government of India, have sent in a joint resignation owing to dissatisfaction with the scale of pay which is said to be less than that of other Government of India Departments.

It is stated that the present scale of pay for Upper and Lower Division clerks of the Department of Supplies (Accounts), is Rs. 60 and Rs. 50 respectively while that of the other departments is Rs. 80 and Rs. 60 respectively.

It appears that the employees had made several representations in the past to the Chief Controller of Supplies (Accounts) New Delhi, but these were either turned down, or no notice was given.

The Head of the Department has asked the employees to submit separate resignations, but some of the staff replied that they would not be in agreement with the "save paper" order.

The Head of the Department told the 'Associated Press' that he had nothing to say about the matter, except that it was under consideration.—A. P.

U. S. Admiral Warns Against Jap Submarine Menace

PEARL HARBOR, July 6.—Admiral Chester Nimitz, Commander-in-Chief of the Pacific at a press conference here said the present powerful offensive by Japan against China can do nothing to slow up the approach of a mighty attack from the West. He gave a warning that Japanese submarines which are now relatively inactive offensively may become so important menaces.

AMERICANS CAPTURE THREE MORE VILLAGES

Steady Advance In Cherbourg Sector: Reprisals Against Belgian Patriots

SHAFF July 6.—It is learned this evening that three villages have been captured by the Americans, who are making slow progress against strong German resistance in the Cherbourg Area.

There is no sign of German large scale withdrawal or surrender. Fierce armour and infantry fighting is still going on at the Carpiquet airfield.

STEADY ADVANCE IN CHERBOURG SECTOR

Americans have gained a foothold on the vital airfield strongly held feature of Fort de Mon Castre, east of La Haye. Satisfactory and steady American advance continues in the Cherbourg Sector. Very heavy fighting is going on around La Haye.

GERMAN TROOPS COUNTER-ATTACK
BERLIN, July 6.—To-day's German Communiqué stated: "South-west of Carpiquet up to the west coast of Cherbourg peninsula American formations attacked all yesterday. Advanced German outposts were taken back to the main line. Where the enemy succeeded in breaking into the main line, German troops launched counter-attacks and fighting is still going on."

LONDON, July 6: A Press Communiqué issued by "Agenceinbel", the Official Belgian News Agency says: "The invasion of Normandy has been followed by a wave of executions in Belgium. Between June 10 and 20 the Germans have published names of 27 patriots shot including 21 for sabotage. The German Controlled Brussels Radio and newspapers warn the population that ruthless measures will be taken against persons who try to hinder German troops' movements. Reprisals against railwaymen's families are threatened."

FIERCE FIGHTING GOES ON
Rommel has massed so many troops along the Tilly-Caen front that a saturation point has been reached where fighting is the fiercest. At these hot spots there is one German division to less than three miles—a concentration practically unsurpassed even in the last war. Rommel can pack in more men.

The British and Canadians are hitting hard against these concentrated masses of men and armor but so far there is no news of any withdrawal along the flank of the salient stretching from Carpiquet to Versen.

It seems possible, however, that German forward elements may have infiltrated in places through the Allied positions at Carpiquet airfield over which the Allies have been fighting is believed to be in German hands. German reaction to General Montgomery's western push on Caen has been exceptionally violent even for this sector of the front where the fighting has been as intense as experienced anywhere.

LA HAYE RAILWAY STATION CAPTURED
Gen. Eisenhower's Communiqué this morning said: Allied troops captured the railway station at La Haye du Puits and are pushing on to south with the enemy contesting every foot of ground. Our position at Carpiquet have been held. Enemy attacks continue.

Pierce combats with strong formations of enemy fighters which were engaged in varying weather over the battle area and to the south and east marked our air operations yesterday afternoon and evening.

NOTABLE AIR VICTORIES
Considerable numbers of our fighters and fighter-bombers vigorously supporting our ground forces joined in air battles. Thick fog was interfering the entire front. Notable air victories were scored in the area bounded by Chartres, Rouen, Caen, and Argentan by our fighters out to attack road and all transports. They also attacked tanks at Carpiquet airfield and special targets indicated by ground commanders close behind the enemy lines and at Saint Lo, Vire, Falaise, Periers and Drueux.

At least 35 aircraft were shot down during the day and four more were destroyed on the ground. 15 of our fighters are missing.

During the night heavy bombers attacked railway yards at Dijon. All our bombers returned safely. Light bombers also hit railway junctions and bridges at Villedieu, Juncville and Granville.

TWO R-BOATS SUNK

During Tuesday night a considerable force of enemy E-boats and R-boats attempted to enter the Eastern anchorage. The enemy was intercepted, brought to action and finally driven off by light coastal forces. Two enemy R-boats were sunk and a third severely damaged.—Reuter.

1. CHINA AFTER SEVEN YEARS OF WAR
"This book is designed to give a picture of several aspects of Chinese life and China's struggle against aggression after seven years of war. It was written in Chungking in a bomb damaged building with walls of mud and bamboo, floors of rough planks and windows covered with torn paper."

"It tells of the heroism of Chinese fliers and infantrymen fighting side by side with their American allies, of the hardships endured by government employees who live with their wives and children in straw thatched cottages around the buildings in which they work, of the efforts of dramatists and novellists who have used literature as a weapon to fight the Japs. It relates the life of students in refugee universities, describes the curious and indestructible city of Chungking and gives the story of the aviators who maintain a thin line of communication between China and the world beyond the blockade."

"No book could tell more than a fraction of the story of China, but it is hoped that this one will enable readers to have a better understanding of the member of the United Nations which has fought longer than any other against the forces of terror and evil."

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH
The Chairman, Mr. Ambalal Kilachand, in moving the resolution for the adoption of accounts, said:—
“The Directors' Report, the Audited

Statement of Accounts and the balance sheet for the year ending 31st December 1943 have been in your hands for sometime and I shall, with your permission, take them as read. Before, however, I propose Resolution No. 1 of this meeting for its adoption, I would like to say a few words.

“You will have noticed that instead of the customary provision of Reserve for unexpired liability at 40 per cent your Directors have set the Reserve at 75 per cent of the Fire Premium income for the last year. In making this provision your Directors were guided by the following considerations:—

“In the first place the premium earned was in respect of transactions for the small period of slightly over four months. The 40 per cent provision for unexpired liability is considered sufficient for working of the full year. Your Directors, therefore, felt that a larger percentage was necessary in view of the short accounting period.

“Secondly, your Directors are anxious to be guided by conservative principles and make a larger provision than is usually necessary for meeting any extraordinary liability.

“I hope, therefore, that the action of your Directors in setting aside the Reserve Fund at 75 per cent will meet with your approval.”

The report, audited statement of accounts, and balance sheet were adopted unanimously.

After re-electing the existing Directors viz. Mr. Tulsi Das Kilachand, Mr. Waichand Hiranand, Mr. Dharamsey Mulla, Mr. Jehangir Peshwa, Mr. Raj Priya Manilal Vasanji Desai and Mr. Ambalal Kilachand and appointing Messrs. Dalal and Shah as auditors for the current year, the meeting terminated with a vote of thanks to the Chair.

"LIFE-BOAT" AT EROS

"Thousands Cheer" And "Ali Baba And Forty Thieves" For Third Week

By T. V. P.

Eros, this week screens the Alfred Hitchcock drama "Lifeboat." This film brings together for the first time, the magic of the master of suspense Alfred Hitchcock and the genius of that dynamic writer John Steinbeck.

The story is stirring and has enormous psychological effect. It gives us insight into the cruel and ungrateful Nazi mentality. The story tells about six men and three women whose ship having been torpedoed, find themselves adrift in mid-atlantic—stripped of the veneer of civilization by the imminence of death—and with no law but that of the wild sea and their tempestuous emotions.

ELACK SEA FIGHTERS AT ROXY

On Sunday the Friends of the Soviet Union present a the Roxy at 10 a.m., a Soviet film titled "The Black Sea Fighters" with a moving commentary in English, written by Clifford Odeh, the well-known left play-wright and narrated by Frederick March. This film made available to the P.S.U. by the courtesy of the "Asia Films of China," depicts the story of the epic defence of Sebastopol by the heroic Red marines of the Crimea. All honour to the brave Soviet cine-cameramen and women who have made this documentary right under enemy fire. For eight long months Sebastopol, besieged by the enemy, fought back single-handed and smashed Hitler's time-table. Sebastopol never flew the white flag. The last Soviet artillery crew blew itself up rather than surrender. Coupled with this there will be a short on Soviet Art and a Soviet Cartoon. For admission enquire at 48, Benham Hall Lane, Girgaon, or 8, Sulaiman Mansions, near City Light, Lady Jamshedji Road, Dadar, or 7, Narayan Terrace, King's Circle, Matung.
